Reports

CAAC 10/11/18 Highlights-

*Dr. Wanza spoke about threats being made to schools are now treated as a felony and reminded everyone if they see something, to say something. There are multiple ways to report threats anonymously including by phone, text, email, and 2 apps.

*Ralph Aiello's presentation about Naviance and CCLR (College, Career, and Life Readiness). Parent Workshops are listed in the Community Connection Catalog (browardschools.com/face). Naviance is now mobile friendly for grades 6-12. Popular tools include college search engines and personality profiles and quizzes.

*League of Women Voters spoke about the lengthy ballot for the November 6 election and encouraged everyone to vote by mail or vote early and be knowledgeable about the amendments and candidates by using the website Vote411.org before going in to vote.

*Carolyn Krohn spoke about the confusion and vagueness in the "makeup work" policy (especially for high schoolers where much is up to teacher discretion) and will advocate for clarification in the Code of Conduct and Policy 6000.1 Student Progression.

Unfinished Business

Proposed Calendar Options – The only valid calendar option is #1 (Wednesday start date) due to #2 (Monday start date) only having 179 school days. Still waiting for new options to be released, but the School Board is to make a decision in December.

New Business

Suzanne started a discussion based on her observation of unsafe crossing of pedestrians through the carline during dismissal. Mrs. Burgess acknowledged the potential hazards and the proper way of crossing is not through the carline but rather by using the sidewalk that runs parallel to carline.
