

New Kids in Town: Oral Histories of Immigrant Teens

By Janet Bode

This book is especially appropriate as our students in Broward County Public Schools deal with personal immigration issues as well as the influx of students in the days and weeks following the earthquake in Haiti.

Eleven teenage immigrants tell compelling stories of their escape from war, poverty, and repression to carve out new lives in America. "Distinct both in voice and personal detail." – Bulletin of the Center for Children's Books

Some of the topics covered include:

- Citizenship
- Communities and Ways of Life
- Families and Social Structures
- Geography and Map Skills
