Course Title: Critical Thinking and Study Skills

Course Number: 17003700

Credit: .50

Grade Level: 9

Major Concepts/Content Seminar of Success

The Seminar of Success (S.O.S.) is an orientation course that gives students the necessary tools for success in academic achievement and the ability to relate what is learned with real-life experience and a variety of postsecondary options. S.O.S. is a needs-based modular curriculum. Character Traits are integrated throughout the program and lessons lead to higher-level critical thinking as found in the FCAT. Upon completion of this course each student will select a Career Pathway that will be implemented into the Career Education Plan and facilitate course selection for the remainder of high school, as well as preparation for postsecondary matriculation. Students will have the opportunity to experience success and develop positive attitudes towards self, school, community, and lifelong learning. The curriculum accents study strategies, social skills, test preparation, content area reading strategies, service learning, action-based research and technology as a vehicle to self-discovery and career exploration. An emphasis is placed on the Career Planning Portfolio, including a career project and four-year plan. Guest speakers include leaders from business and industry.

SPECIAL NOTE: Paired with Career Research and Decision Making for a one-credit elective course.
