

ALL LEARNING RESOURCES & INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS DEPARTMENT WEBSITE

WHAT'S NEW FOR 2009-2010?

- 🍏 <http://www.broward.k12.fl.us/learnresource>
- 🍏 Features information regarding department initiatives, current news & events, online databases, resources, best practices, policies & procedures, K-12 instructional materials, professional development, training tutorials, reading motivation, and frequently asked questions/answers.

WHAT YOU NEED TO DO?

- 🍏 Place a link on your school webpage to the Learning Resources & Instructional Materials Department website.
- 🍏 Increase awareness and inform parents, students, staff, and community that this new website has been created to provide a direct link to information regarding library media resources, curriculum & instruction, and all related instructional materials that support teaching and learning.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF YOU DON'T?

- 🍏 An uninformed media specialist cannot efficiently manage all components of a library media program or effectively integrate new instructional technologies and District resources with your school's learning objectives, which may negatively impact student achievement and teacher productivity.
- 🍏 An uninformed textbook coordinator cannot effectively manage and track resources without access to updated forms, information regarding the availability of instructional materials, and assistance in fulfilling the requirements of the CCC indicators.
- 🍏 An uninformed school learning community will be deprived of relevant information and access to resources, strategies, and materials to support teaching and learning.

WHO NEEDS TO KNOW?

- 🍏 All Broward County Public Schools' stakeholders (principals, teachers, students, parents, and staff)

HOW WILL YOU COMMUNICATE FOLLOW-UP?

- 🍏 Via email, on an as needed basis.
